COLLEGE NOTICE

DEPUTY PRINCIPAL (RESEARCH) - FACULTY OF MEDICINE

Professor Jonathan Weber has accepted appointment as Deputy Principal (Research) of the Faculty of Medicine with effect from 1 January 2011. In this new role he will work closely with the Principal of the Faculty of Medicine and key stakeholders to define and deliver the Faculty's research strategy.

Professor Weber has been Director of Research for the Faculty of Medicine and Imperial College Healthcare NHS Trust since 2008 and has held the Jefferiss Chair of Communicable Diseases and G-U Medicine since 1991. He has undertaken extensive clinical and laboratory based research on HIV/AIDS, HTLV-I and other STIs. Professor Weber established the first UK cohort studies of the natural history of AIDS, and co-founded the WHO Network for HIV characterisation in 1992. He is an advisor to WHO, UNAIDS, DFID and EC on aspects of HIV infection and holds strategic awards from the Wellcome Trust.
