

MRes Computational Cell Biophysics

At the forefront of interdisciplinary research

One year full-time programme:

- Innovative and interdisciplinary
- Admits students from diverse science backgrounds
- Undertake major research project in world-class research groups
- Gain conceptual and quantitative understandings of physics, maths and computer science, and learn to apply these tools to address complex questions in cell biology
- Develop essential programming and machine learning skills
- Learn to communicate across disciplines

APPLY NOW! ucl.ac.uk/lmcb/mres-ccb